

RELIVING THE PAST (2)

The Value of Stories

The Rambam writes that speaking highly of the noble qualities of tzaddikim is beneficial, for it encourages one's listeners to want to follow their ways. Rabbeinu Yonah writes that by praising tzaddikim one is praising HaShem, and doing so also brings out the good within the speaker.

(פיהמ"ש אבות א, טז, שערי תשובה שער ג')

Sent by the Tzemach Tzedek to Ruzhin to take care of a public matter, the chossid and gaon Reb Aizik Homiler used the opportunity to observe the ways of the Ruzhiner chassidim and of their Rebbe, the tzaddik Reb Yisroel. At that time, two chassidim came to Ruzhin to receive the Rebbe's haskama for seforim they had written. One was filled with chiddushei Torah and the other recounted sippurim of tzaddikim and notable chassidim. The Rebbe instructed that part of each sefer be read aloud. After sitting in dveikus for some time, he proceeded to praise the telling of sippurei tzaddikim, an activity in this world that arouses echoes in the heichalos of tzaddikim in Olam HaBa, and then delivered a pilpul on some of the chiddushei Torah that appeared in the first sefer. Having done that, he instructed his gabbai to write haskamos for the seforim, first for the sippurim and then for the chiddushim.

Reb Aizik was impressed with the tzaddik's pilpul on the second sefer, but was puzzled by the precedence he had given to the sippurei tzaddikim. A few days later, at a Rosh Chodesh seuda, the tzaddik suddenly said, "This gaon is surprised at the priority I gave to the sippurim. In fact, this was addressed long ago by Rashi, who asks why the Torah begins with the story of the Avos, before listing the mitzvos. This is because the sippurim tell us about the greatness of HaShem's involvement in the world."

Turning to Reb Aizik, he concluded, "I followed the same order the Torah used."

(אג"ק מוהרי"צ ח"ו ע' עו)

Sippurim for Everyone

The Frierdiker Rebbe related: "It was a Shabbos afternoon in תרנ"ו (1896). After my father finished davening, he went to the home of his mother, Rebbetzin Rivkah, to make Kiddush. There, my father asked his mother, "Do you recall how the picture of the Alter Rebbe was brought to the Tzemach Tzedek and what he said about it?"

"Sure," she replied, "I remember it clearly."

My father then asked her to tell it to me, so that I would hear it from a first source. My grandmother readily agreed, and turning to me she said, "Come at a calmer time and I will tell it to you."

She then added, "At one Seder I heard my father-in-law, the Tzemach Tzedek, say: 'Mitzva lesaper biyetzias Mitzrayim' – by telling sippurim we can get out of Mitzrayim. 'Ve'afilu kulanu chachomim u'nevonim veyodim' – even a person who is a true Chabadnik (meaning a chossid steeped in the insights of Chassidus) is obligated to tell chassidische sippurim, for these will take him out of his Mitzrayim (that is, out of his ruchniyusdike limitations)." My grandmother concluded, "Since then, I make a point of recounting sippurim only when I'm completely focused."

(התמים ח"ב ע' 760)

In the year תרס"ג (1903), the Rebbe Rashab told his son, the Frierdiker Rebbe, "For a long time I have been complaining at the Ohel of my father, the Rebbe Maharash, about my lack of participation in chassidische farbrengens, as a result of spending my time catering to the cause and avoda of Chassidus. I asked to receive this as a gift, and my father agreed. From then on, I began to hear sippurim at nighttime visions."

Later on, the Frierdiker Rebbe said, "From that time on, I heard numerous stories from my father, the Rebbe Rashab, but I wouldn't ask where he had heard them or when he had heard them."

(ספר השיחות תש"ה ע' 24)

Special Stories

Before the Alter Rebbe relayed a Torah of the Baal Shem Tov, he would say, "The words of Torah from 'the Zeide' (as he called the Baal Shem Tov) are a segula to increase one's understanding and yiras Shamayim, and the stories of 'the Zeide' are a segula for long life and abundant parnasa."

When the Tzemach Tzedek's daughter once fell ill with high fever, he suggested that someone read her stories of the Baal Shem Tov, for they are a superb segula to heal fever.

(לקוטי דיבורים ח"א ע' 508, רשימו"ד החדש ע' 135)

The Rebbe Maharash once said: "People say that relating a story of the Baal Shem Tov on Motzaei Shabbos is a segula for parnasa. The truth is that these three points are not necessarily so – lav davka. It does not necessarily have to be about the Baal Shem Tov – it can be about any tzaddik; and it is not only applicable on Motzaei Shabbos – it can be at any time; and the segula is not only for parnasa – but for all good things as well."

(רשימו"ד החדש ע' 211, וראה שמו"ס ח"א ע' 4)

Rebbetzin Rivkah related: "תר"ט (1849), when I was newly married, my father-in-law, the Tzemach Tzedek, called in all his daughters-in-law who lived in Lubavitch and instructed them to gather every Motzaei Shabbos and relate a sippur of the holy Baal Shem Tov. We asked whether it was enough to just mention the Baal Shem Tov's name. My father-in-law replied, 'Definitely – a story!'

After that, every Motzaei Shabbos, one of the daughters-in-law would visit the Tzemach Tzedek, where she would hear a story of the Baal Shem Tov, and this she would then share with the rest of us."

(סה"ש ת"ש ע' 173)

CONSIDER THIS!

- Is the advantage of stories in their results or in the stories themselves?
- Why can't the same benefits be acquired through learning Chassidus?

A WAY OF LIFE

Swimming in Halocho

Are there any halachos that one should know before going swimming?

As in every other area of life, there are halachos relevant to swimming. Here are some of them:

- 1) The halachos of tznius apply, to men and women, even when no one is present. This requires that one should always remain covered at all times except when otherwise necessary. Therefore, one should endeavor to remove the clothing of body parts normally covered, as close to the pool as possible.¹
- 2) The halacha is² that one who removes his tzitzis with the intent of putting them back on after a few hours, must make a new bracha when he puts them back on (even he changed his mind and put them back right away). The exact definition of "a few hours" is not clear. However, it is surely not less than a little over two hours, and not more than a considerable amount longer than three hours³.
- If one is planning to swim for a length of time that is questionable, some *Acharonim*⁴ suggest that, when reciting the bracha in the morning, he should have in mind that it extends only until he removes them for swimming. Then he can recite the bracha again, after swimming, without a doubt.
- 3) When swimming at public pools, it is common that one's clothes are mistakenly taken by someone else. Nevertheless, halacha states that he may not take the clothing of the one who took his clothing, unless it is clear to him that the one who took his clothing realized his mistake, and still did not bother to retrieve his own clothes. In this case one can assume that the one who made the mistake is fine with his clothes being switched. Nevertheless, if one knows the owner, he should contact him to switch back⁵.
- Some however argue⁶ that it is permissible to use the clothes of the person who mistakenly took his, since nowadays people do not mind if their clothes are used in case of a switch (provided of course that it is clear that he is now taking the clothes of the one who took his). However, he should still attempt to notify the owner by posting a sign about the swap.

The above is for discussion only. For 'halacha lemaaseh' one should consult his Rov.

OUR HEROES

Reb Gershon Ber Paharer

Reb Gershon Ber of Pahar was a chossid of the Tzemach Tzedek and later of the Rebbe Maharash. Guided by Reb Hillel Paritcher, he became known as a great maskil and true ovied.

Reb Gershon Ber is quoted for his heartfelt resolve "Morgen vet zain gor andershl!" (Tomorrow will be very different!), which he would proclaim after Krias Shma She'al Hamita, while rubbing his head with his yarmulke.

Reb Gershon Ber was acclaimed for relating stories. During his visits in Lubavitch, the Frierdiker Rebbe, then a young boy, would spend time listening to him gush forth tales and teachings of elder chassidim.

After one such evening with Reb Gershon Ber, the 17 year-old Frierdiker Rebbe penned a diary entry.

It is 2:00 A.M. Outside rain pours heavily. I pleaded with Reb Gershon Ber to stay in my home until morning. He agreed. I went to my room to contemplate what I had heard that night.

Is there a pen and scribe who can adequately describe the profound impression I have from Reb Gershon Ber? From his stories of elder chassidim, both of their personal lives as well as the way they interacted with the simple pure-emunah folk, followers of the ways of Chassidus.

...I look at the face of Reb Gershon Ber, the well-known maskil. He is distressed about his spiritual situation, which in his mind, leaves a lot to be desired.

I write the following in order that it should be as a witness for days to come:

On this past Motzoei Shabbos, I heard stories and talks of Reb Gershon Ber. Throughout my youth, I have seen many Chassidim. I have seen maskilim, ovdim, and baalei middos tovos. I have heard their stories and watched their conduct. For three years my father has been acquainting me with the wonderful and hidden gifts from the lives of great chassidim of the past, and (may they be separated for good and long life) of today. Of all the chassidim, Reb Gershon Ber is unique. In him I see the quality of a broken and crushed heart; broken like a shard of earthenware ("tzubrochen vi a kinenle") and 'botel' like the dust of the earth.

While still sunken in my thoughts, a deep cry reaches me. I listen as Reb Gershon Ber reads Krias Shma She'al Hamita. He is saying the "ribono shel olam"; "shelo ashuv od lehachisecha, velo e'eseh hara be'einecha"... May I not return to anger You anymore, nor do what is evil in Your eyes.

A MOMENT WITH THE REBBE

Eating and Sleeping Hours

Reb Tzvi Fuks, a former talmid of Tomchei Temimim in Poland, merited unique moments during the Rebbe's visits to the yeshiva in Otvoztok.

"Knowing that the Rebbe was a great gaon, I would approach him with all my questions in learning. I would wait for him to leave his office, and pose my questions while he was walking. The Rebbe's answers came with lightning speed, 'Check that Ritvah... Try that Tosfos...' The sources would roll out, while I held my breath.

"One day, after receiving my answers from the Rebbe, an elder chassid approached me. He told me of the Frierdiker Rebbe's request that bochurim should not take up the time of son-in-law, saying, 'He does not substitute the lost time with less work; it comes off his eating and sleeping hours.'

"That was the end of my discussions with the Rebbe."
